

Letters campaign launched to avert Gulf war

SUFFOLK people are being urged to participate in a national letter writing campaign to avert the possibility of war in the Gulf.

The campaign, which is organised by the United Nations Association, is calling upon individuals to petition the Prime Minister and local MPs, asking them to give sanctions a chance.

Force

Miss Fiona Johnston of Swingleton Green, Monk's Elleigh, who is trying to organise a local branch of the UNA, says sanctions should be given at least a year to work.

"On no account should the January 15 deadline be regarded as an automatic right to use force immediately after the date," she says.

Anyone interested in lending their support should contact Miss Johnston on 0449 740028.
